Membership is open to any male, regardless of age, who can prove lineal descent from a man or woman who contributed to obtaining our country's freedom from Great Britain. It does not have to have been military service. Civilian service, such as being a public official, serving on a jury, paying a supply tax or providing support to the army is included.

You will need to document your lineage from your revolutionary ancestor. This can be an involved process and we are available to help. You can check the SAR website (www.SAR.org) or your local chapter contact listed below.
